

The Bulletin

Meeks Street Church of Christ

1201 Meeks St. Corinth, Ms. 38834

Phone – (662) 808-7777

Visit Our Website at:
MeeksstreetchurchofChrist.com

January 21, 2024

“FIVE SMOOTH STONES OF PARENTING”

by Sewell Hall

In Goliath, David faced what seemed an indomitable foe. David's goal was not so much to kill the giant as to protect the children and honor of God. He took five smooth stones from the brook to achieve his purpose.

In the pervasive humanism of our society, parents face what appears to be an equally unconquerable giant who is determined to destroy their children. They have five stones with which to protect them.

#1 Purpose

"A child left to himself brings shame to his mother" (Proverbs 29:15). Consequently, Wisdom says, "Train up a child in the way he should go..."(Proverbs 22:6). This requires first determining "the way he should go," then pointing the child in that direction. For Christians one direction supersedes all others: eternal life in heaven via Christlikeness on earth. Scores of agencies with different goals challenge us for control of our children. My father used to say, "I will not let the schools take my children away from me." Today there are many additional threats: TV, internet, video games, ipods, scouts, sports, neighbors, etc. These must be constantly monitored and controlled.

Parents of good children are often told, "You are just lucky." No, good children are not the product of luck, but of purpose-relentlessly, sacrificially and pro-actively pursued.

#2 Training

"Bring them up in the training...of the Lord" (Ephesians 6:4). Training a plant requires knowing where you want it to go and then patiently bending it, pruning it, and perhaps even tying it. Training an animal involves knowing what you want it to do, using force at first, then patiently guiding, correcting, and finally rewarding and punishing. In both instances, training means establishing authority and maintaining control. Training children begins with example and sometime physical force, then guidance, correction, and eventually reward and punishment when the child understands what is expected.

Above all, it means establishing the parents' authority and letting the child know who is in control. This must begin very early. Once willful rebellion is tolerated, a wrong direction is established and the necessary "bending, pruning, and tying" become all the more difficult. The mother of John and Charles Wesley described good discipline as "shaping the will without breaking the spirit." This agrees with the Spirit's counsel: "Do not provoke your children to wrath, but bring them up..." (Ephesians 6:4).

#3 Instruction

"Bring them up in the...admonition (instruction - NASB) of the Lord" (Ephesians 6:4). Unlike plants and animals children can be admonished and instructed. This, also, parents must do. The very intellect that enables children to be instructed also enables them to exercise their free will as they grow older. Parental control constantly diminishes, and unless God's control is established, their lives will be out of control. God's control is established by teaching them the scriptures. Long after Timothy was beyond the control of mother and grandmother, their faith dwelt in him (II Timothy 1:5). How was this accomplished?

Paul reminded Timothy, "From childhood you have known the Holy Scriptures, which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith that is in Christ Jesus" (II Timothy 3:15). Faith in older children is the result of early instruction in righteousness. Parents should take advantage of the classes offered by the church, but this is not enough-they must teach their children personally. A mother once told me of overhearing her husband saying to their young infant in the crib, "Let me tell you about Jesus." Not surprisingly, that young infant is now a godly young teenager

#4 Affection

Training and instruction must be administered with love-a love that "suffers long and is kind," that "does not behave rudely," and above all, "does not seek its own" (I Corinthians 13:4-5). Children will forgive many mistakes if they can always be sure of their parents' love. "Love will cover a multitude of sins" (I Peter 4:8). Affection without firmness is disastrous, but equally disastrous is firmness without affection.

#5 Prayer

David did not attribute his defeat of Goliath to the stone, to his sling or to his skill. "The battle," he said, "is the Lord's" (I Samuel 17:47). So it is with the training of our children. God is concerned with the outcome and we are servants whom He has entrusted with our little ones. We must pray daily for the wisdom that He has promised to supply (James 1:5) and for His providence to overrule our inevitable mistakes. And when our children have become what we hoped for, we have no ground for boasting, only for the humble exclamation, "to God be the glory!"

David succeeded, using only one stone; parents will need all five.

“A Day of First Things”

by Joe R. Price

We cannot overstate the importance of what happened of the Day of Pentecost, recorded in Acts 2. Many firsts occurred that day, which continue to impact the lives of Christians, as well as the whole world.

The first day of the week. It is notable that Pentecost (also called the Feast of Weeks) was on the first day of the week (Lev. 23:15-16). From that day forward, we worship on the first day of the week (Acts 20:7).

The first gospel sermon preached by the apostles (Acts 2:4, 11, 22). The gospel had been preached in promise, and prophetically (Gal. 3:8; 1 Pet. 1:10-11). Jesus preached the gospel of the kingdom (Matt. 4:23). Now, His apostles use the keys that opened the door to the kingdom, by preaching Jesus as Lord and Christ (Matt. 16:19; 18:18; 1 Pet. 1:12).

The first time the plan of salvation was preached to the lost. Jesus commissioned His apostles to preach salvation to the world (Mk. 16:15-16). On that day, sinners who believed Jesus is the Christ, were told to repent and to be baptized for the remission of sins, and to receive the gift of the Holy Spirit (Acts 2:37-38).

The first conversions. About 3,000 souls believed, and obeyed the apostles, and they were saved that very day (Acts 2:41).

The first church came into existence. The church of Christ was composed of "about three thousand souls" on that day (Acts 2:41). The Jerusalem church became the first local congregation of Christians. There would be more (Acts 8:4; 9:31).

The first kingdom worship is recorded. After their conversion and salvation, the Christians continued to worship together (Acts 2:42). Theirs was not a flash-in-the-pan conversion; it was a life-changing, life-absorbing decision.

The first acts of church benevolence occurred. Shortly after Pentecost, the church began caring for its own, by giving and distributing as any among them had need (Acts 2:44-45).

Visit our YouTube Channel:

Meeks Street Church of Christ https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCgiXJxZC1oraOugO9qlfBtw?view_as=subscriber

And Our Facebook Page.

For sermon videos, articles, and announcements.

“Do Not Boast About Tomorrow...”

Lesson Text: Proverbs 27:1.

I. Do Not Boast About Your Life.

- James 4:13-17; We Often Make Plans, Predictions, And Goals For The Future.
- Often, These Are Based On What We Are Currently Doing In Life.
- But, Circumstances In Our Life Can Change:
 - Ecclesiastes 9:11.
 - Acts 9:1-31.
- We May Mature, Think Differently, And Change Completely Later On.
- Ephesians 2:1-7; 2 Corinthians 5:17.

II. Do Not Boast About Your Prosperity.

- Proverbs 23:5.
- The Uncertainty Of Riches- Matthew 6:19-21; 1 Timothy 6:17-19.
 - Stock Markets Crash, Inflation Destroys Earnings, Job Loss, Or Bankruptcy....
 - Why Trust In Something We Can't Keep- Ecclesiastes 2:17-19.

III. Do Not Boast About Your Accomplishments.

- Daniel 4:28-36.
- It Is Humbling When We Think Of God's Accomplishments- Psalms 147:1-9.
- Our Accomplishments Would Not Be Possible Without God.

IV. Do Not Boast About Your Religious Works.

- Ephesians 2:8-9; Romans 4:2- Warning Of Boasting In Religious Boasting.
- Romans 2:17-24- No Basis For Boasting!
- Luke 17:10.

V. Do Not Boast About Your Wisdom.

- 1 Corinthians 1:26-31.
- Man's Boast In Wisdom Keeps Them From Being Saved- 1 Corinthians 1:21.
- We Need God's Wisdom! 1 Corinthians 3:18-21.

VI. Do Not Boast About Your Time Here.

- Procrastination Is A Way Of Boasting Of Tomorrow.
- Satan Would For You To Think: “I Have All The Time In The World.”
- Ecclesiastes 9:12.
- Luke 12:16-21
- Ephesians 5:15-17.

Conclusion: Be Thankful, Not Boastful- 1 Corinthians 15:57.